Lansdowne, Lansdowne, Nova Scotia

LOOKING FOR OFF GRID? This is the spot!
This two-bedroom 1 bathroom home has oversized solar panels that power the home and then some! With just over 10 acres of cleared field ready to go this property could make an excellent hobby farm. With this off grid home you'll never need to leave. But if you do Bear River is only a few minutes away, as is Digby. One of the coolest features of this home is the masonry oven in the basement, great for baking, bread making and keeping the whole home warm in the winter months. Don't want to deal with the basement stove? No problem upstairs there is a wood stove, and a propane fired heater. A wind turbine is on the property as well for a backup power supply as well as the opportunity for a generator. Looking for land and off grid? Get in touch with your REALTOR® of choice today!
