Breathtaking private waterfront estate in the heart of Central Burlington! This beautifully maintained 4+1 bedroom home by renowned architect Stewart McPhie (most notably known for the Paletta Mansion) has been thoughtfully enhanced with full space clearing and Feng Shui principles to encourage positive energy, harmony, and prosperity. The home has been energetically refreshed, removing stagnant energy and creating a serene, uplifting environment that nurtures well-being, abundance, and peace of mind. Originally built in 1907 as a charming cottage, the residence showcases distinctive Arts and Crafts architectural elements, including a front gable, expansive overhanging eaves with decorative brackets and rafter tails, clapboard siding, and a wood shingle roof. One of its most striking features is the wall of south-facing windows overlooking Lake Ontario, including a sunroom with a continuous band of 18-paned windows that invite abundant natural light and breathtaking views. Another highlight includes the full in-law suite with a completely separate entrance.
